WAITING FOR ORDERS FROM THEIR CHIEFS

Representatives of Southern Railway Employes Sill in Session.

THEY ARE VERY RETICENT

But Admit That "The Times" Report of Their Business is Correct.

Vice President/Baldwin Explains the Nature of the Requests Made by the Mes Rolate to Benewal of Contracts-They Have Been Promised That Uniform Pay Schodule and Rules Will fcon Be Promulgated.

Negotiations are still pending between the representatives of various organizations of the Southern Railway system now in session in this city. The differences between the company and its employes were set forth yesterday in Tue Tours.

Owing to the absence of the principal officials of he company here it was impossible for the employes to obtain a hearing before Thursday, when a call was made on General Sanager Green and Third View Provident Baldwin. According to the report of this conference from the employes' standpoint it was unsatisfactory and other conferences eere held yesteriny with Vice President Baldwin, General Manager Green being al-

The object of the delegates here is to secure contracts which they shall regard as suffident. The fallure to get these stirred up the delegates on Thursday when it was said that a strike was not improbable under the circomstances, and that the heads of the different orders had been sent for to come to Washing on and take counsel with the delegates. ing on and take comesel with the delegates.
Vice President Baldwin was called upon yesterday morning and was seen just after he had a take with two of the delegates. Mesers, Barringer and Delaney. He was asked what the request of the delegates was. He said:
"It is oustomery with many railroads to make agreements with their men in any particular class of labor, which agreements state and the rules by which the pay shall be gov-Richmond and Danville, the old company, now known as the Southern Railway, but now known as the Southern Indivay, but when that road was longit these contracts expired. The question now is, that instead of having different rules on different parts of the road, the same rules shall prevail over its whole system. The fact is, that when the Southern Hallway Company purchased other lines there were carious schedules of pay on these lines. These relations were, however, approximately the same, and a withese men ask that they be made the same.

"What assurances are given the delegates "What assurances are given do be no change on their request?"
"We replied that there would be no change of any sort at present, but that I would as soon as convenient, prepare a schulle of pay and rules to covern the whole system."
In the membrile the delegates do not appear to be satisfied, Capt. I. W. Moore, of Danville, who has been presiding over the meating at Harris, Hall, was called upon and was asked for

HIS SIDE OF THE STORY. He said that he had no authority to speak, and would not give any information whatever except that the meetings would contisue to be held, and, in fact, a long session was held in the alternoon. So close are the delegates that as they all flied out of the hall at 6 p. m. one of them was asked what the meeting was about, and he said quite promptly and dec.sively: "We haven't had my meeting."

any meeting."

It is quite evident that the delegates have been "cautioned." The presiding officer as d that he had read the news item about the business of the delegates here in Tax Tixas vesterday, but that it was published entirely without authority.

It is fair to infer from the previous statements as to the trouble that the delegates are now on'y waiting for the chiefs of the orders to get here and advise as to the next step.

Building of the Beneficial Endowment Association Put Up for Sale, but Withdrawn on a Low Bid.

Twelve thousand dollars was the highest bid at auction sale made yesterday afternoon for the building of the Washington Beneficial Endowment Association, a property which is regarded as worth from $35,000 to $40,000. The association appears to have played in hard luck ever since the trouble among its stock and certificate-holders, which engaged the attention of the public last summer and which is now being untangled in the equity

Receivers were appointed here for the Comnercial Alliance Company, of New York, to which the property, put up for sale yesterday, was sold. In the suits of Robert Ball and otners, which grew out of that sale, Messrs, A. A. Lipscomb and T. M. Fields were appointed receivers, and the court recently or-dered that the tuilding, No. 419 Tepth street northwest, to sold to satisfy the equities in the case. The announcement of the sale at that place, at 4:0 p. m. yesterday, attracted quite a crowd to the place, among them te ng several of the old certificate-holders of the several of the old certificate-holders of the Endowment A sociation.

Mr. Durr, of Darr & I archife, did the austioneering, both receivers being present. There was not the slightest financial interest exhibited in the proceedings, which was raised to $11,000 and then to $12,000. This was the apparent limit, no other bids being made. The receivers got tired and Mr. Lipssomb said to the auctioneer: "There is no use wasting your time," the court will not consider such a hid as that. "This stopped the proceedings and the crowd dispersed.

One of the old certificate-holders was asked what he thought about the result. He said, laconically enough: "Nothing, there is no use to think anything." Another one said that he had contributed $1, with a great many others, to prosecute those who had defrauded-him, and he got nothing out of it. He was not going to contribute any more. Another said that he had gone into another company and "didn't care about usking for what he couldn't get."

The receivers said, after the sale, that an effort would now be made to dispose of the property at private sale.
